Memories Held With

The homecoming festivities began in the Senior homerooms where the long list of nominations was whittled, not so easily, down to six lucky girls. Finally, on Homecoming Eve, the moment had arrived and Wausau Wests homecoming court was introduced. The sounds of enthused screams filled the field house and Queen Robin Roesler reigned in glory.

In Beautiful Times

Making Of The Yearbook

In our yearbook we try to accomplish many things. One major reason is, the yearbook is a memory book, to look back and recall your 77-78 school year. You will also be able to find certain events that you really enjoyed, such as the Homecoming or Prom. This yearbook also benefits West High School by showing the community what we really do in our school. In these pages we will try to show how staff members and student photographers worked to put your book together.

Mr. Last, our yearbook company advisor.

STARTING SCHEDULE

Starting Time-Class	1st- 3rd
Pop Break	4th- 9th
Lunch Hour	10th-14th
Class	15th
Pop Break	16th-19th
Quit	20th

Yearbook camp was held in July, at Ripon, to plan the order for the pages and theme for 1978.

Copy or written stories are typed out.

Pictures are taken by students and decided on by staff members.

Layout or page design is decided and worked out.

The yearbook office is a working place.

The staff members work together on their sections.

All pictures in yearbook are cropped like this.

Mrs. Rebholz helps the staff with many problems that come up.

3-C COPY SHEET • JOSTEN'S/AMERICAN

Fit all body copy, captions and identifications for a single page on one 3-C copy sheet. 2. When copy sheet is complete, tear off top 13 1/2" discard and return bottom 11 1/2" to publisher. Retain for future use.

3. In an emergency you may use plain white typing paper with two carbon copies. Order additional 3-C copy sheets on the re-order card in your Editor's Kit.

RECTIONS COST TIME AND MONEY!

See sample 3-C copy sheet on top back for detailed instructions.

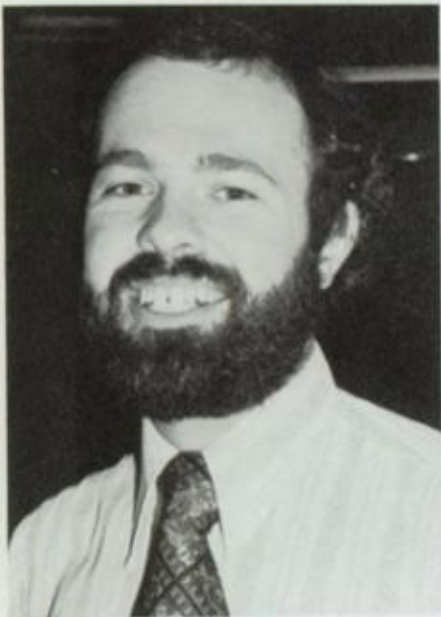

CHECK ONE
BODY COPY	9	10	18	20	25	30	35	40	45	50	55	60	CHARACTERS
CAPTION COPY	6	12	18	24	30	35	42	48	54	60	66	72	TO THE INCH

These papers are used for copy or typed part sent into company.

Pages are turned in and checked by editors and mailed to the plant in Topeka, Kansas.

Photographers Work

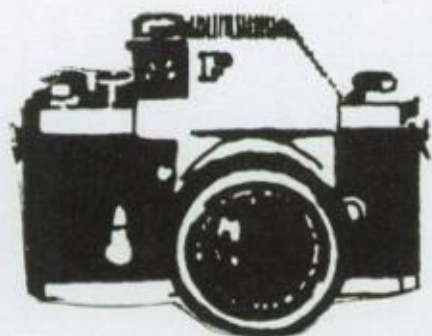

Mr. Barentine: Advisor

Wausau West Photographers, Inc. was founded in the fall of 1977 to supply the yearbook and newspaper with hoardes of pictures-more than the population of mainland China! We have been busy raising the consciousness of the masses particularly those who signed up to become photographers (what an effort!) and have explored the areas of operating adjustable cameras, developing and printing black and white film and whether there is life on Mars or is Acapulco a good place to vacation if one more group shot doesn't turn out? To date we have 12 survivors give or take a half a dozen, two stunned leaders, a file full of rejected photos (the rest are in the yearbook), and a stale Hersey bar in the bottom lefthand drawer of the desk. Aren't you sorry you asked? Smile, there's a miniature camera hidden in one of the periods on this page. Got ya!

The picture is taken and the photographer develops the film.

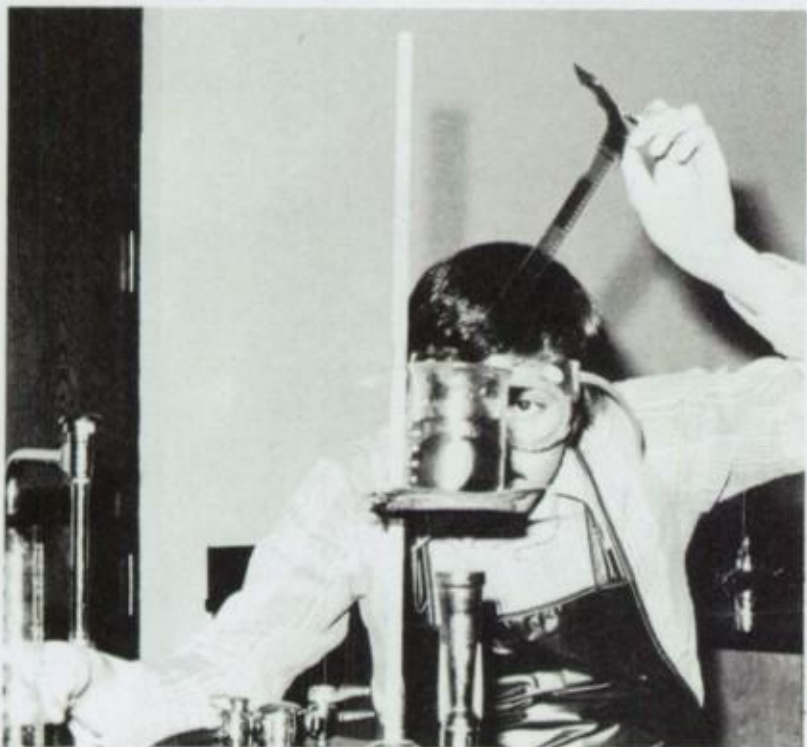

The photographer makes a contact sheet showing all the pictures on the film.

Yearbook staff selects the picture they want printed and the sizes to make them.

The 1978 Wisconsin Cinegraphics Festival, 1st place picture in the statewide contest. Entered by Steve Meurett.

For A Short-Time Together

"A Winter's Night With You," was the theme of this year's Junior Girls' Dance held on December 27 at the VFW Club. A Post Party/Dance was held in the Wausau West Commons.

One hundred twenty-three couples attended the Junior Girls' Dance, which was sponsored wholly by the Junior Class. The Class Officers Sue Lemmer, Tammy Hrdina, and Michelle Kilinski were responsible for the organization, but many other Junior girls assisted with the decorations. Sophomore girls also helped with serving refreshments.

Profits from the dance will be used as scholarship money for a Senior girl.

Senior Girls Honored

This year Heidi Erdman was Wausau West's DAR Good Citizenship Award winner. She was chosen through nominations by the senior class and final deliberation by the guidance office.

Wausau West had two Kiwanis Girl of the Month winners this year. Lisa Schoeder was the fall representative and Kristi Seehafer was chosen in the spring. Both girls were honored at a dinner sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and received recognition in the Daily Herald.

SEES CLASSED

A New ---

As the class of 1981 precautiously took 472 first steps into the corridors of Wausau West High School, a new era dawned upon the eyes of freshman students.

Many new experiences were open for them: sports including football, volleyball, swimming and track, along with school plays, The Miracle Worker, and the spring play, musical concerts and student council.

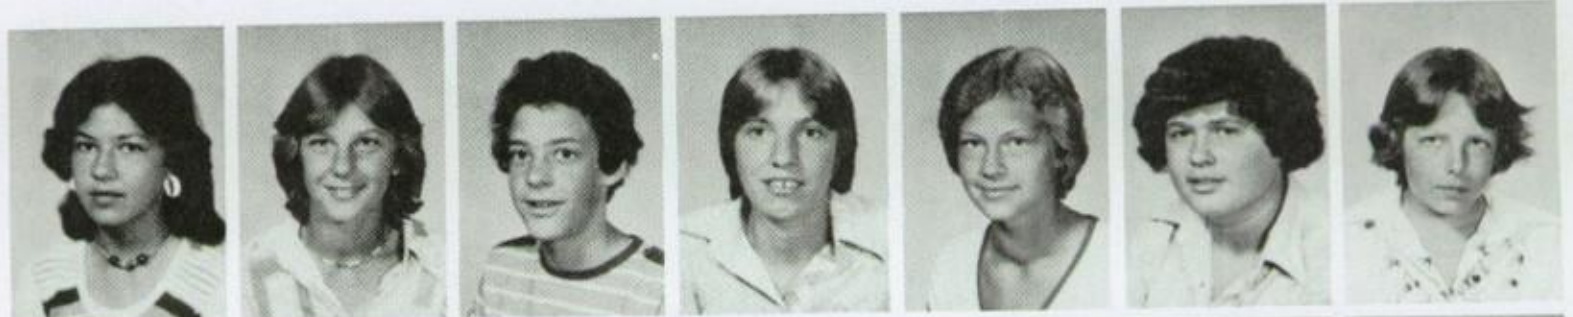

Keeping the newcommers rotating in student life, Dee Dee Polzer, Linda Barrington and Dawn Abt were elected class officers.

Today's year was full of new adventures, and tomorrow's year holds new horizons for this class surely destined to succeed.

Moving Through Mid-Day

The 442 sophomores in the class of 1980 are on the move for their second year. They are more informed and aware to what's happening around them along with a few new challenges.

Moving through their mid-years at West they experience new freedoms in regards to choosing their own physical education courses, being enrolled in driver education classes and behind the wheel instruction.

Finishing this year will move the sophomores one step closer to the junior challenges and two steps closer to the senior dream.

Approaching Dusk

The 1979 Junior class combined their 498 members into one of the greatest displays of spirit ever. They survived World History and Health; required junior courses, and were seen enjoying new freedoms such as creating their own schedules and being able to stay in the commons for four mods. Class officers Sue Lemmer, Tammy Hrdina and Michelle Kilinski provided much support throughout the year in keeping the spirited junior class together.

As the junior class approaches dusk they are awaiting with anticipation a new life-style — Senior life. Waiting for the glorious age of eighteen, decisions for the future, spending all their time in the commons and finally graduation, where the class of 1979 is awarded for all their academic achievement and hard work at West High School.

STOPS

Time Makes A Difference

A well balanced scoring attack led the Warriors to their second good finish in the conference meet in 1977. Late season injuries hampered the state tournament series action. West's city meet win was the first time a team has won the championship twice in a row. "This team developed one of the finest attitudes about participating in sports that I have ever seen," says West coach Jim Moore. Team captains were Ross Riemer and Jerry Doepke. Most improved — Jeff Burk. Most valuable — Ross Riemer. Prospects for the future are bright as West will have four returning lettermen for 1978.

A lack of depth hampered the Warriors girls all season. "These girls gave their very best, but there just were not enough girls competing to make that effort into a championship performance." Next year we hope for a much better season, as all Warrior girls will return. West's captain was Mary Martin; most improved runner was Sharon Berndt and most valuable runner was Vicki Swanson.

Blood, Sweat And Time

The Wausau Log is back at West! We are glad to have it "home" where it belongs and we hope that we can play well enough in the coming years to keep it here.

The tradition of the "Log" seems to dictate a high spirited game between East and West and this is the way it should be. Over the years the competition has been fierce but it has always been clean and in good taste. Let's make sure that the East-West game can continue to be one that both schools can be proud of no matter who is the winner or the loser.

Holding Up The Back Court

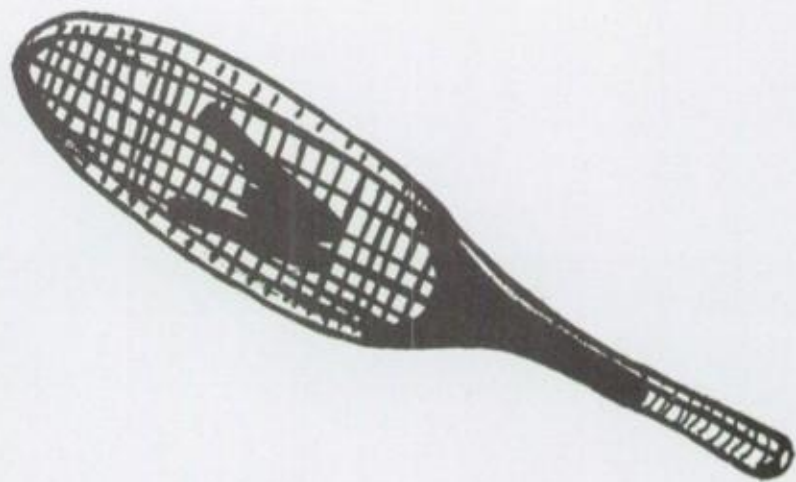

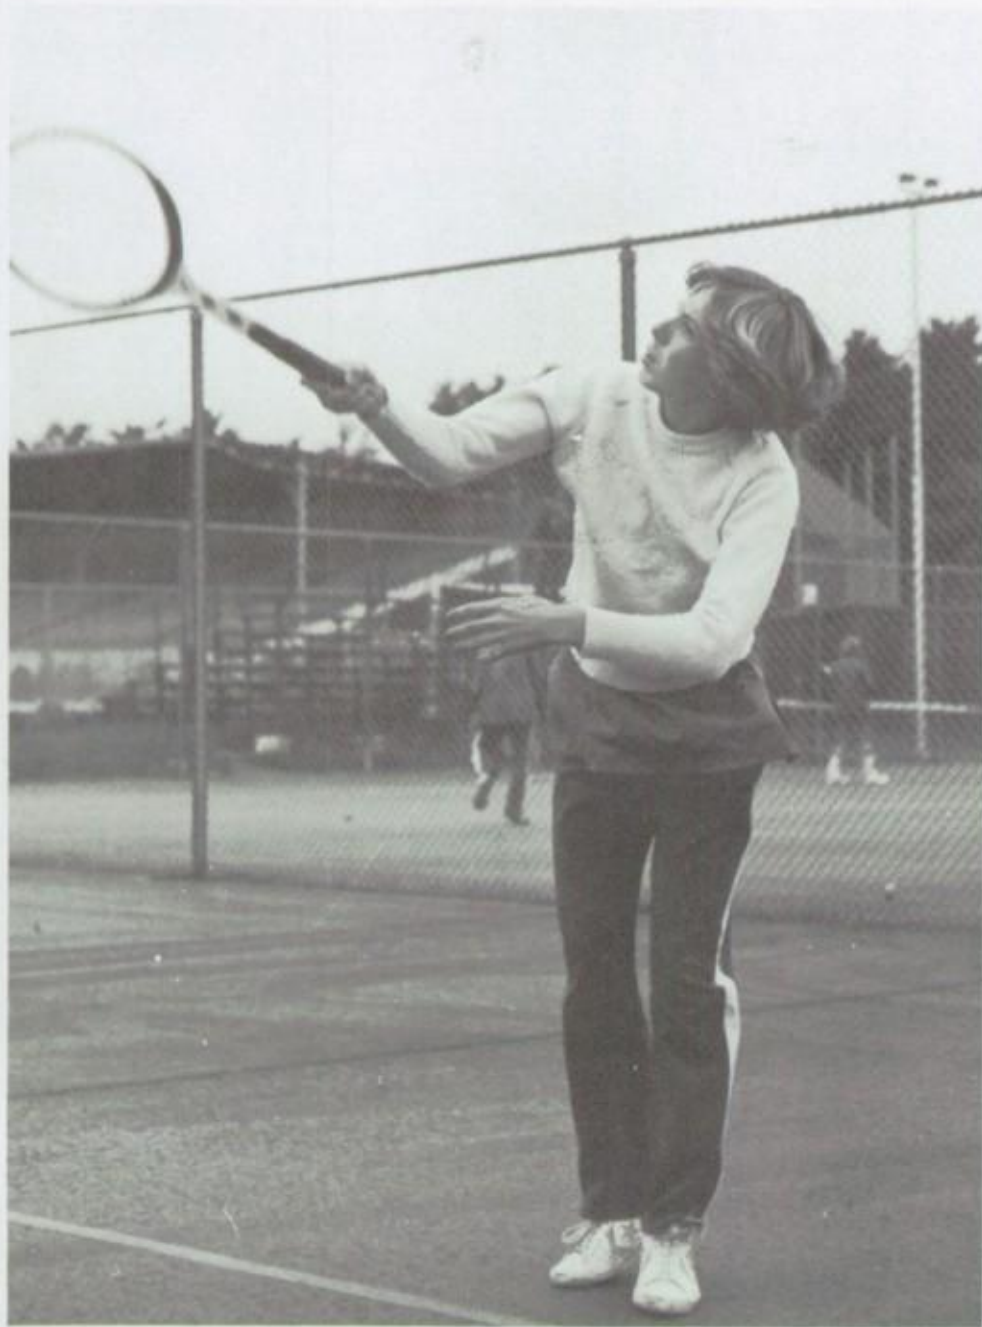

Our Wausau West Girls Tennis team finished the season with a 4-9 overall record. This represents our best season since the sport began here. We also played in a Rhinelander Invitational tournament and the City Meet where we finished third. We are an improved team and we should continue to improve.

Pederson

The Girls Swimming team took the City Meet for the first time this year. Their overall record was 7-2 for the season. They also qualified six girls for state competition: Robin Roesler and Carla Hilber, diving; Janine Dutton, 100 yd. backstroke; Beth Shandley, Amy Rudell, Kris Hansen and Janine Dutton teamed up for the 400 yd. relay.

According to Coach Young, the team has come a long way and will keep going because of the large number of juniors on the team.

With eleven returning letterman the Wausau West Hockey Team has come along way, and are very competitive. This is the fourth year of coaching the team for Don Bradford who is backed up by Peter Susens. According to Bradford, Susens is doing an excellent job and has relieved him of some of his duties. The conference is well balanced with the favorites of Eagle River, Mosinee, Wausau East, and Stevens Point. The team also is well balanced with three lines and two sets of defensivemen. Team captain this year is Jeff Spooner; assistants, Mark Shandley and Larry Spooner.

Warriors . . . On Court Motion

At the Christmas break the basketball team was struggling with a 1-5 win-loss record. The team opened the season with a 63-49 loss to East. They followed with an exciting one point loss to D.C. Everest. They finally won their first game on December 9, beating Shawano. They lost their next three games to Rhinelander, Antigo and Marshfield. Team leaders in statistics after five games include scoring leader Pat Zillman with 14 points per game. Followed by Seniors Todd Bentz, Scott Siewert and Freshman Jim Gross. Rebound leaders are Bentz, Gross and Zillman, while assist leaders are Seniors Mark Heiting and Mike Kerr. The team is looking toward an improved second half of the season.

Our club has been in existence for three years. This is our fourth year of organized competitive girls' basketball.

We opened our season against co-conference champions, Wausau East. We lost the game, but played very well. D. C. Everest, Marshfield and Antigo proved to be tough competition and handled us easily. Shawano, Rhinelander, St. Point and Merrill were frustrating contests that we should have won. We played even ball with them and had the opportunities to pull them out but fell short. We were so close, yet so far.

Our club has a lot of enthusiasm despite our current record. Winning and losing is part of organized competition, but so is sportsmanship, determination and a positive attitude. We're a young club with these qualities and have the potential of a very strong club. Top scorer is Jayne Moser; Top rebounder, Denise LaPointe and for the most assists is Tammy Schmieden.

Mary Jarvis

The Wausau West Junior Varsity team got off to a slow start this year but as the season progressed so did the players. Eighteen girls are on the team, mostly freshman, so the future looks very promising. With some good hard work, a bit of enthusiasm, a lot of dedication and a little luck we'll have the right formula to continue this program in the proper direction.

The gymnastics team has a strong and improved team. With the loss of one member last year, the team has 8 returning letterman.

There are four major events in the sport of gymnastics, balance beam, uneven parallel bars, vault, and floor exercise. On varsity level they are required to have four medium and three superior moves in their routines not mentioning dance, poses and leaps.

With the team made up of mostly this year's juniors, they should be strong next year. Team captain is Sue Buehler.

Leading On In Style

When you refer to a "cheerleader" here at West, you have to stop a minute and be more specific than that. Contrary to the way many schools operate, here we have not one, but many squads, in order that equal time can be given to as many sports as possible. Consequently, our cheerleaders have more differences than similarities. Some have to worry about the rainy weather in the fall, while the others have to cheer in an overcrowded, overwarm gym. All of the people have to have a knowledge of the sport they are cheering for. A new dimension was added to the Varsity squad this year with the addition to two boys. But differences matter little, and these people do very well at raising the school spirit.

A Time For Staging

November 17th, 18th, 19th were special nights for Wausau West Theater this year. These dates marked the performances of William Gibson's The Miracle Worker. At the outset this play presented big challenges to both the acting and technical staff. Several actors who had never performed on the West stage before were asked to give performances they didn't know they were capable of. The veteran actors were pushed to work at a level many of them had never worked at before. The technical staff had to design and mount a complicated light plot, solve the problems of having a pump that actually "pumped" water on cue and build a set that represented the Kelly home. The play took unbelievable cooperation and dedication from everyone involved in the production. But, the end result, the performances were well worth the hard work. Many audience members said, "The Miracle Worker was the best play ever performed here at West."

A Time For Singing

The 1977-78 Wausau West Concert Choir is again one of the finest high school choirs in the state. The choir is composed of seventy-eight sophomore, junior, and senior students. This year's choir is taking an extended tour to Moorhead, Minnesota in the spring of 1978 to give area performances. Many of the choir students are also active in Solo and Ensemble Competition and in the State Honors Choir.

The 1977-78 Wausau West Chamber Choir is composed of thirty-six sophomore, junior, and senior students, who picked through a series of auditions under the direction of Lowell Larson. This group gives many formal performances at area organizations. This year's Chamber Choir is the biggest ever because of the ever-increasing singing quality of the students coming into the West Music Department.

A Time For Swinging

The SYMPHONIC BAND consists of sixty-one members from Sophomores to Seniors. People are chosen for this group through auditions with the director, Mr. Roger Bloemers, who feels that the purpose of the band is to provide a challenging musical experience. The band gives a number of concerts each year, and also gives many performances for area schools. Mr. Bloemers feels that this year's band is very good and has a lot of potential for good music in years to come.

Up Tempo

The Wausau West Jazz Ensemble is a highly polished group of twenty-two musicians. On January twenty-first the band competed against thirty-five other bands in the UW-Green Bay Jazz Festival and received high honors. The ensemble presented its eighth annual concert on February eighteenth. A wide variety of swing, jazz, and rock music was performed, including such favorites as "Woodchopper's Ball", "Send In The Clowns", and also an original composition by West senior Mike Nelson. The program also included comedy, vocalists, and a movie.

ATROCITY

The Keepers Of The Clock

We've all heard talk about Competency Based Testing, (CBT). There are many questions as to what this is and how it would affect education. We took our questions to Mr. Wheeler.

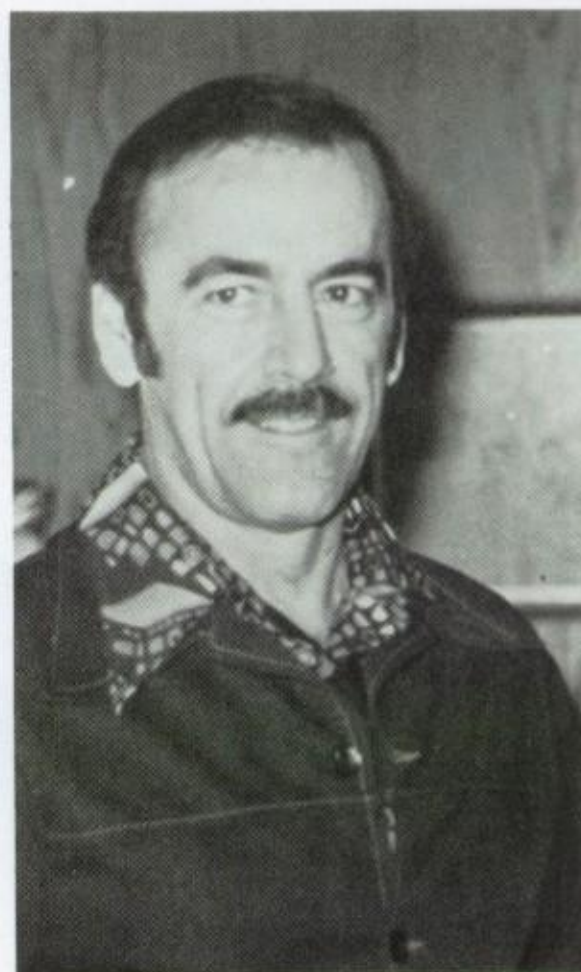

The purpose of CBT is to identify skill deficiencies. Skill deficiencies show below average skills in a given area. A program is then set up to remedy them. The skills tested would be "survival or minimum skills" according to Mr. Wheeler. The specific areas could be reading, writing, mathematics, spelling, and science. Others might be listening, speaking, reasoning, communication, and personal and family management.

Testing all these areas would be impossible. Mr. Wheeler stated that deciding what minimum skills are and the level a person should be at is the most important question posed by CBT. Next is the test itself.

The only testing done at Wausau West this year, was to test the Juniors in Math, on April 3, 1978. During our interview, the contents of that test or possible uses of the results were not determined. The school board was also undecided as to how test results could affect graduation.

One group for future testing could be incoming freshmen. The deficiencies would be spotted early and a course of study could be planned.

A lot of questions on CBT must still be decided. Because of tests, students will leave high school better prepared to cope with our rapidly advancing society.

Memories

Through the pages of this book we hope we have created for you, the student body and faculty, a collection of memories to hold for the rest of your lives. A year is a short time, but we hope this is one you will never forget.

We who created this book, did so with the understanding that there would be problems, but we overcame them. We knew there would be road-blocks, but we knocked them down. We knew there would be a constant rush to the end, but we arrived. We did this for you, the reader, we did this because we wanted to.

A big thanks goes to our editors, Bonnie, Karen, Jamie, Pam, Deb, Deb, and Cindy. But most of all a special thanks to Mrs. Rebholz, our advisor. She's the one who kept us going. A thank-you also goes out to the photography class, advised by Mrs. Nagler and Mr. Barrington, who worked with us for the first time this year.

Memories . . . of this year, are caught in the midst of time, in the pages of this book, in the memory logs of our minds, and the souls of our hearts.

Taking Care Of Business

This year, the DECA Club had thirty-five members who participated in a Leadership Lab, regional and state marketing contests, working in the school store and helping the American Lung Association in a non-smoking program called "students teaching students". They also planned some local activities. Most of their planning occurred during their meetings, which they held mods 18-20 on Thursdays.

The DECA Club is for students who are in the marketing program and are interested in learning more about business outside of the classroom. The goals of DECA include developing leadership abilities by being active members and officers in the club, developing civic consciousness in the community, developing social intelligence by interacting with students from other schools during social events, developing vocational understanding by preparing for marketing contests and listening to guest speakers at dinner banquets.

DECA Club officers are — Chris Klinker, president, Mike Kohnhorst, vice-president, Lisa Schoeder, secretary, Wendy Hoeft, historian, Karen Fiedler, treasurer, Lisa Dellenbach, parliamentarian. Their advisor is Mr. Montgomery.

The DECA Club has been active at West since West opened seven years ago. And, they truly have done their share in making everyone's years at West a time for all to remember.

Advisor . . . Mr. Venne

The Dimension was published monthly this past year, totally by the students of West. The staff was composed of the Dimension people who wrote the creative stories and news articles you saw, secondly by the graphics department, who printed the entire paper, and thirdly by the photography class, who took the soul responsibility of picture taking. And as we have seen from the product they have produced for us, they did a fine job.

FFA — The Growing Concern Of America

FFA is a nation wide organization, an intercurricular activity, complementing a school's four year agriculture program. FFA provides the hands on experience much needed in today's education. Different FFA chapters compete against each other on a local state and national basis. FFA members are active in fairs and shows, teams, musical groups and agriculture contests.

The FFA is what its members make it. There's something in it for each participant. It's a big, broad, exciting organization that's part of Vocational Agriculture/Agriculture Business.

One of the most common oversights is that FFA is solely for farmers and that farming is the only area involved in agriculture. This, however, is not true. In reality, agriculture encompasses soils, plants, livestock, forestry and conservation, for examples. Agriculture is one of the few areas where there are still many jobs available and the future remains quite bright. As a matter of fact, when food, clothing, and shelter are abandoned, then and only then will agriculture lose its importance to society.

The FFA club is an organization run by its members. A body of officers is elected by its participants each year. Their role is leadership and conduct at meetings. This year, West had eight officers representing the seventy-three members. They were: Matt Skic, president, Mark Skic, vice-president, Randy Dehnel, treasurer, Jackie Helke, secretary, Don Radtke, reporter, Bruce Erdman, sentinel, Terry Seidler, parliamentarian, Jeff Buch, chaplain. Their advisor was Mr. Todd Fischer.

This year in Student Council, they had an interesting feature — co-presidents. They were Roger Bauer and Malin Benecik. Other officers were: Mary Martin, secretary, Craig Anderson, vice-president/treasurer.

Student Council was responsible for arranging the successful student exchange with Wausau East.

The students discussed many topics this year. It proved to be a worthwhile experience.

Programmed To Perfection

The Computer Science Club is a group of students who are interested in programming — the art of writing instructions which tell the computer what to do. To do this, they use a language called BASIC, which is a mixture of algebraic and English terms. To see if their programs work, they run them by typing their instructions in the computer in Room 207.

From readings, worksheets and discussions, they become aware of the impact of computers on society — both good and bad — and about how a computer works. Lastly, there is an annual Christmas party for all the students in the club.

Chess enthusiasts at West matched wits this year in one of the newest clubs. In only its second year, Chess Club met every week to give members a chance to test and improve their skills. A Christmas party was planned and the club looked toward possible tournament play with Wausau East or anyone in the community.

Chess Club is open to anyone who enjoys playing the game. The advisors are Mr. Cody and Mr. Stetzer. Chess Club president this year was Sam Seidler.

This year's theme for the newly organized Future Homemakers of America Club was "Using today to build tomorrow." The club held bake sales with proceeds going to such groups as the Muscular Dystrophy Association. The goal of the club is to use their resources to help others.

The advisor of FHA is Mrs. Stencil. The president this year was Carla Barttelt.

Might Time

The 1000 Mile Club consists of runners who have kept track of at least 1000 miles of distance covered. Members names are recorded on a plaque, so graduates can be remembered. This year the club was composed of Andy Coulter, 4500 miles; Ken Smart, 2500 miles; Pat Loomis, 2000 miles; and Jerry Fenske, 4500 miles. Mr. Moore is the advisor.

1000 MILE CLUB: Andy Coulter, Ken Smart, Pat Loomis, Jerry Fenske.

Members of Math Club took part in the Central Wisconsin Mathematics League meets. At the three meets, students were tested in Geometry, Algebra II, and Advanced Math. At the end of the year, the person with the highest total point score on each level team attended a banquet with the advisor, Mr. Wolfgram. Roger Bauer was president.

The West students photographers along with Mrs. Nagler and Mr. Barrintine took the soul responsibility this year, of taking, and printing the yearbook and Dimension pictures. They were also involved with Photography contests and Creative Photography, in which Steve Muerett took first place in a statewide contest, featuring our steeple chase on Homecoming Day. All of this was structured around the class that met twice weekly.

Slip Slidin' Away

The Cross Country Ski Club this year was a small number of students, but still the anxiety of the first snowfall touched everyone in the club. They held meetings whenever they were needed and discussed trips to be taken, races held and new cross country ski news. They said the sport is one you can do for mere enjoyment, or one that can be turned into a very competitive rivalry.

Advisor Mr. Speckhard

Anyone taking German can join German Club. Several members started this year by attending the Wisconsin Federation of Students of German (WIFSG) Convention in Oshkosh on November 11 and 12. The convention featured a dance, banquet and workshops.

In the fall, members sold Advent calendars to raise money for the German Festival, spring picnic, and the $150 scholarship given yearly to an Advanced German student going on in German in college.

The highlight of the year was the German Festival held in the spring. Club members took part in the German band, and in skits, songs, and dances, all showing aspects of the German culture. German foods were also served.

Mr. Speckhard is the advisor of German Club.

Around The World . . .

This year, West's foreign exchange student was Stephanos Popadopolous. While in Wausau, he resided with the Elgard Barttelt family and went to school with their son, Terry.

Stephen's natural family — his mother, father, and older sister, Helen — reside in Rhodes, Greece, a city located on the island of Rhode. There, his father is a building contractor and his sister is a tour guide, which is the field Stephen wants to go into eventually.

Schools in Greece are quite different from West, according to Stephen. One difference is that students there attend school from 8:30 to 2:00, six days a week. They get no lunch break, but they do get ten minutes "passing time" between classes.

Another difference is the choice of study. In Greece, students take courses such as history, math, physics, geography, Greek (ancient and modern), and English. But, unlike West's variety of labs, small groups and large groups, their classes are mostly lecture sessions. Also, they don't have elective courses like West does.

Still another difference is the grading system. Greek teachers grade three times per year, using a scale of one to twenty (one being the best, twenty being the worst).

A fourth difference is sports. Although students participate in sports similar to those at West — volleyball, basketball, and soccer — competition is limited to the equivalent of West's seniors.

School buildings are another difference between West and Greece. In Greece, they consist merely of classrooms and offices — there is no commons, fieldhouse, or library.

When asked what he liked most about West, Stephen responded, "the modular class system." When asked what he liked least, he had no response. He said he liked everything.

But, that doesn't mean Stephen didn't miss his home. He said the things he missed the most were going to discotheques at night (you don't have to be eighteen there, he said) and listening to Greek music. As for food, he commented that Greek and American foods are essentially the same.

It's been a good year — a time for all to remember — especially for Stephen.

Here's Stephen as he anxiously awaits the skiing season.

In his spare time, Stephen also enjoys playing the organ.

This is the Future Secretaries Association. The club's primary objective is to provide its members with a better understanding of the opportunities and responsibilities in the secretarial profession. FSA is sponsored by the National Secretaries Association whose members are experienced secretaries. These professional secretaries provide guidance through educational programs for FSA members.

Although the main purposes of FSA are career exploration and education, it is also a challenging, rewarding, and fun experience.

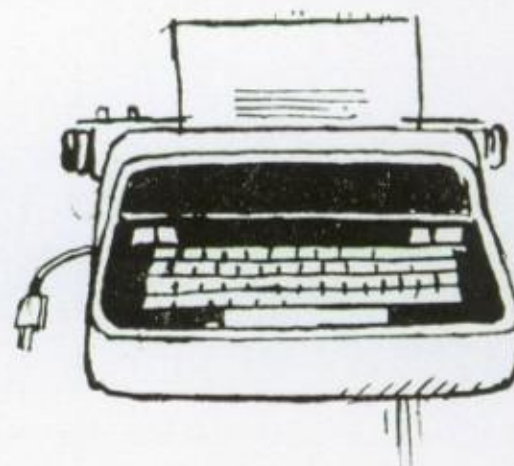

FSA officers are — Julie Greguire, president, Pam Koppa, vice-president, Pam Loeffel, treasurer, Gail Nowacki, secretary. Their advisor is Mrs. Trowbridge.

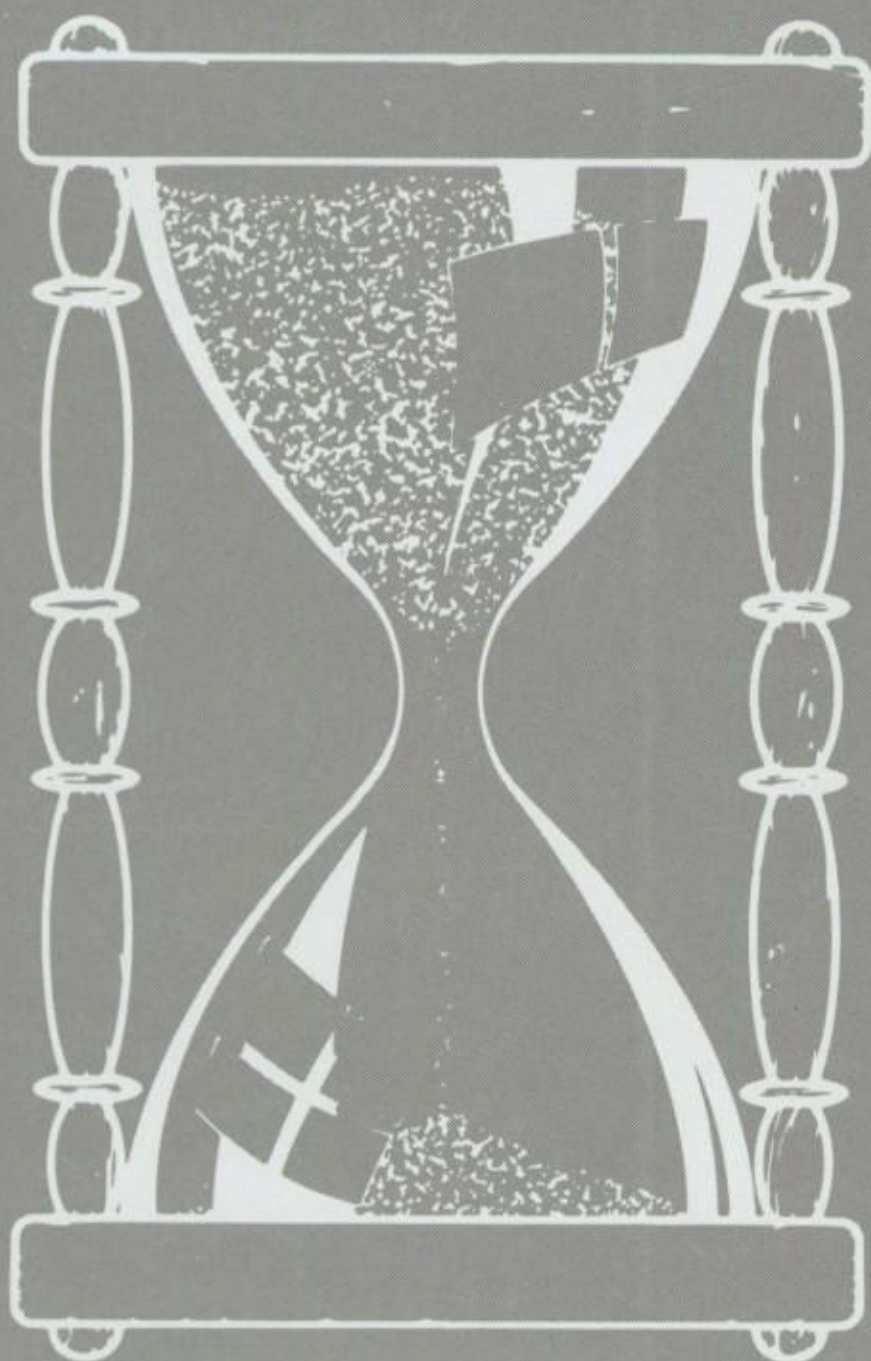

TOP RIGHT — Sheryl Olson, Connie Kurth, Peggy Matakovich, Deb Bauman, Roxanne Pagel, Maryanne Kaltinecker, Deb Krueger, Cindy Olson, Kim Felbaum, Janese Zinkowicz, Sue Brandt, Ruth Beranek. WAUSAU METS PROFESSIONAL BASEBALL CLUB

Central Wisconsin Baseball, Inc.
P.O. Box 1568 — WAUSAU, WISCONSIN 54401 • (715) 845-4900

The "WAUSAU METS" would like to wish all members of Wausau West a happy and successful future. We would like to thank all the students and faculty for their individual support for the past three seasons here in Wausau. Being locally owned and concerned with community involvement we hope that "Pro" baseball in Wausau has helped serve as a stepping stone to students who will soon be graduating from high school.

The players who have performed here in Wausau may be examples for students to follow. Those that have worked hard, used the talents and abilities given them, and have taken their vocation seriously shall be successful and make it to the big leagues; those that have not, will waste valuable years of their lives and probably never seek total job security and happiness.

Reggie Jackson set a home run record for the World Series in 1977 for the N.Y. Yankees, by hitting three homers in one game.

Today, Tomorrow
The World Is Forever
Changing - Things Here
Today, May Be Gone
Tomorrow. Let's
Remember Them While
We Can.

Freddie Prinze, star of the hit show, "Chico and the Man", committed suicide, leaving hundreds of fans and friends.

Gene Simmons is the vampire figure in the rock group KISS. KISS is one of the hottest groups going in '78.

The year has been captured in pictures. The things around our own school, West, and now the things that have been going on in the world around us.

The drought this summer in the Western half of the U.S. helped fan the many forest fires and brush fires that happened this year.

Bing Crosby, world famous for "White Christmas", and for the "Road" movies with Bob Hope died in October, 1977.

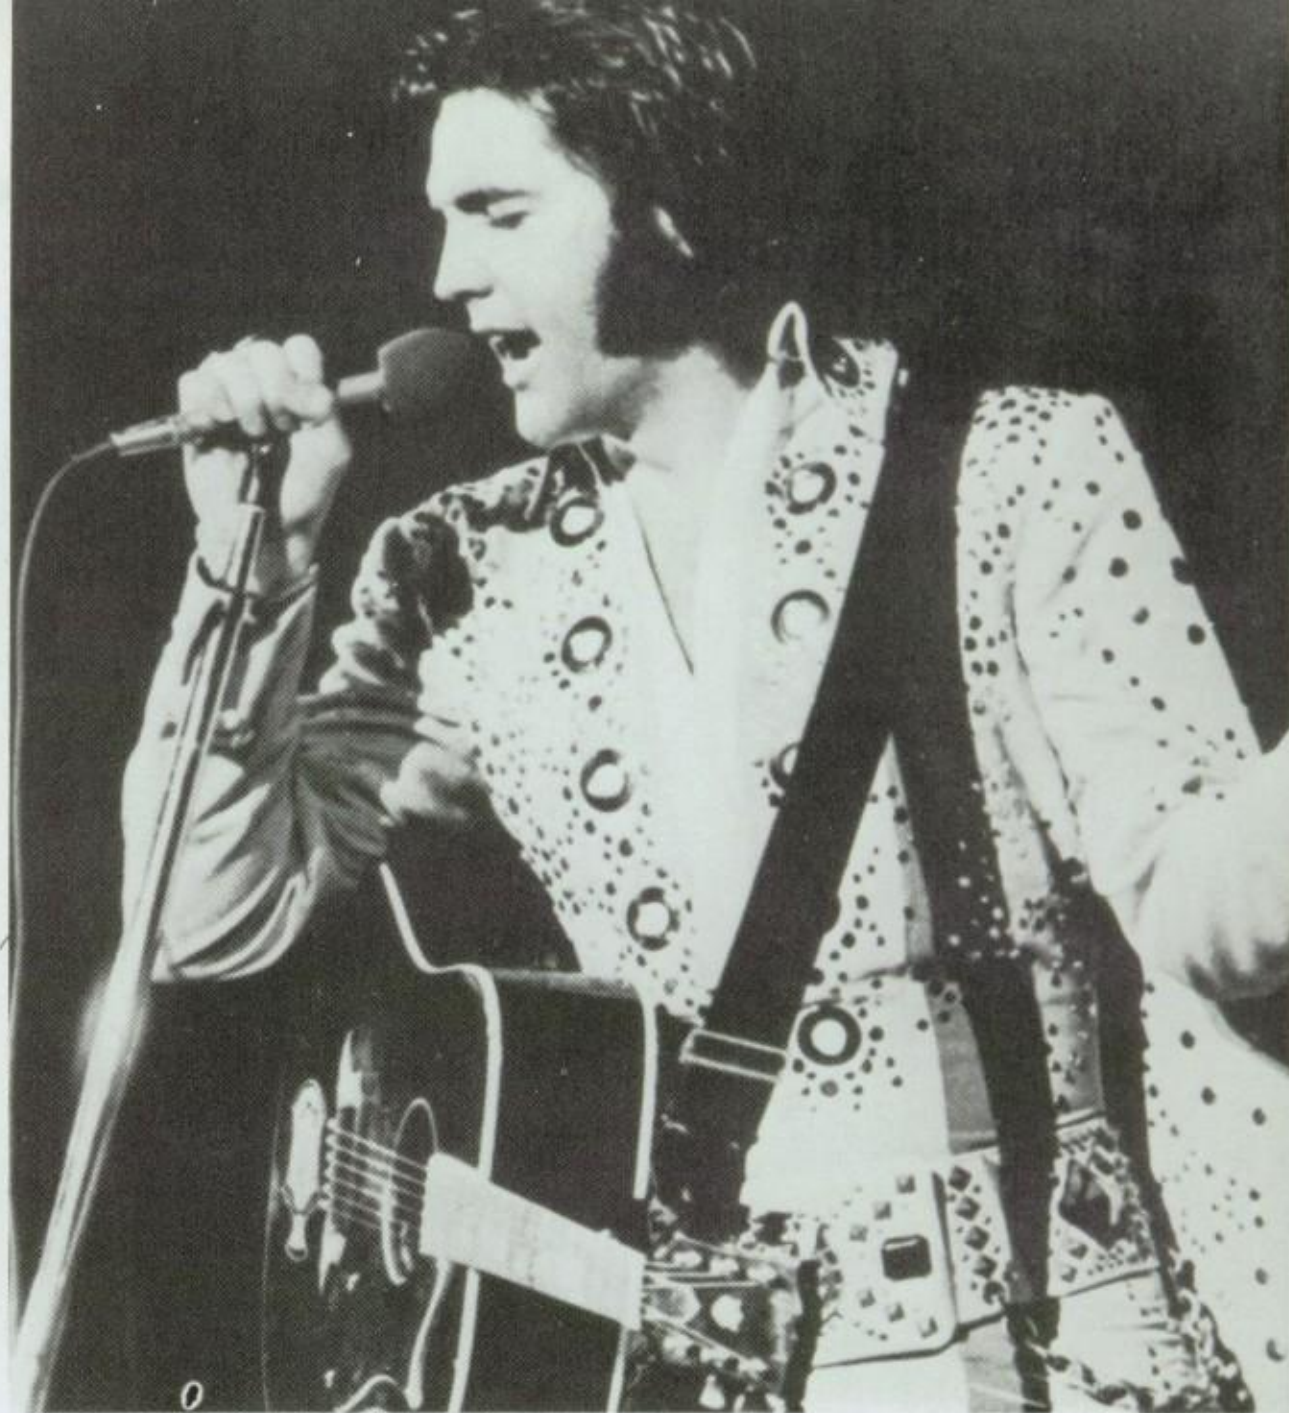

Farrah Fawcett Majors has become a household word in today's T.V. world. Her smile, slim figure and wild hairdo made her one of the biggest heartthrobs around.

Other things happened in these times, too. Things not pictured are still important. Groucho Marx, most famous of the acclaimed Marx Brothers comedy team passed away in September of '77. With him went the tradition of Vaudeville Comedy.

Another movie has hit the screen this year. Star Wars. This movie, a science fiction marvel, grabbed its viewers this part year, and claimed hundreds of faithful believers with characters like R2-D2, Darth Vader, and Chewbacca.

The Future Is Unknown, And The Past Remains Our Own

Elvis Presley, King of Rock 'n' Roll died in 1977. Elvis was known for his "swivel hips", his movies, and for his great music, with his last hit, "Way Down".

The world's first space shuttle, the "Enterprise". Here it is riding piggy-back on a 747 in preparation for its space service.

Janet Guthrie cools off during a pit stop in the Memorial Day race. She was the first woman to ever race in the Indianapolis 500.

George Willis decided that he did not want to climb a mountain like everyone else, so instead he climbed the sheer side of the World Trade Center.

... Yes, Our Own;
To Remember Anyway
We Wish.
The Memories
Will Linger On

CLASS OF 1978:

I have always looked forward to working with all the Class of '78. The enthusiasm and zest for achievement evidenced by this class has produced many individual awards and an excellent group record in all areas ranging from the academic to inter-scholastic athletics.

This four year period has been marked by a steady and positive change in the attitude of the student body. Evidence of this change is the increased regard for the academic achievement and the improved acceptance of responsibility by the student body. Your class has led and molded this change in attitude.

Much success, whatever path you choose to follow! God Bless Each of You.

A C Wheeler
